#The Essential News Story

The Gideon's are well known for placing free Bibles in hospitals and hotels where many people can read them when asking the big questions about life and its meaning.

The Gideon's have now produced special editions for Glamorgan CCC to be offered to all players, club officials, coaches staff and friends of Glamorgan CCC. We have now had delivered these special limited edition New Testament and Psalms Bibles. embossed with the Glamorgan CCC logo. (see photo). We will be offering the academy players a copy if they wish this last weekend and we will be having the official launch of these special Bible's at our "Thank You Celebration" Evening on the 5th November. In addition, the complete Bible in traditional Gideon's red, also embossed with the Glamorgan CCC logo, will be presented in a brief ceremony on the 5th December.

New *YouGov research reveals that only six of the original Ten Commandments are still seen by most British people as important principles to live by. This is even true of Britain's Christians, although they are more likely than the general population as a whole to think any given Commandment remains important. While two of the Ten Commandments have been enshrined in criminal law the others have made their way into generally acceptable views of appropriate behaviours, some of the Old Testament's instructions no longer hold sway among many British People, a survey by YouGov suggests. What do you think?

Regardless of whether you are a Christian or not, which of the Ten Commandments from the Bible do you believe are still important principles to live by.
