SERVING SPORT THROUGH EXCELLENCE IN CHAPLAINCY

Who We Are

Sports Chaplaincy UK (SCUK) has had the privilege of providing pastoral support and spiritual care to UK sports for over 25 years. The charity started by John Boyers whilst serving as chaplain at Watford Football Club and who went on to become chaplain at Manchester United has been in existence for many years. We now provide support to around 70% of the professional English and Welsh football clubs, plus nearly all the Scottish and Northern Irish Football League clubs. Our current CEO, Warren Evans, has developed sports chaplaincy throughout Rugby League in the UK and over the years we have developed chaplaincy in mainstream UK Team sports including Rugby Union, Cricket and Hockey from Elite to Grass Roots Level, serving men, women, boys and girls across all levels of ability including Disability Sport. We are expanding into Golf, Athletics and other Individual Sports including providing chaplaincy to Gymnasiums and playing an active role in providing chaplaincy at leading Sports events such as the Olympic and Commonwealth Games. We now have over 600 volunteer sports chaplains serving sporting communities across the UK and work closely with our global colleagues around the world under the umbrella of Global Sports Chaplaincy.

Chaplains build relationships with players, coaches and the whole staff and volunteer base at clubs and recognize that a healthy body, mind and spirit is needed to go alongside the necessary technical capacities, individual and collective tactical behaviours, physical strength and mental toughness that sports athletes need to fulfil their potential and achieve their dreams. And as chaplains' journey through life with all the staff at their club, they are able to provide pastoral support through all the difficulties and challenges that life brings as well as celebrating life with them.

We have partnership agreements with many key national governing bodies in Ireland such as the Irish FA , Northern Ireland Football League and the North West Cricket Union .And our counterparts in the mainland include relationships with the PFA , English Premier League & English Football League, Racing Welfare , Welsh Cycling , Hockey Wales , Disability Sport Wales , the Scottish FA , the Scottish Premier League , Cricket Scotland and International Mixed Ability Sports where we are the recognised suppliers for this kind of specialist support to sport.

Our Objectives

Sports Chaplaincy UK is the charity that trains, supports and helps facilitate the work of club chaplains within each setting. This enables them to provide excellence in pastoral support and spiritual care across the full spectrum of support needed through the difficulties and challenges of life for the benefit of the whole sporting community irrespective of faith tradition or no faith background. We want to provide an expression of love and compassion to every sporting community on the island of Ireland regardless of age , ability or gender.

We also partner and work with other organisations such as Sporting Chance, State of Mind and Care for the Family to ensure that individuals have access to the best specialist care in relation to issues such as bereavement, trauma, depression, mental health and addictions. It is recognised that there is a need for high quality pastoral and spiritual care. This generally involves visiting club offices and training facilities on a weekly basis and being available to listen and bring support to all. Each chaplain will bring with them a vast range of skills, knowledge and expertise. Our chaplains are extremely supportive, bring a non-judgemental, listening ear and an empathetic and compassionate presence.

Sports Chaplaincy UK Values

Presence – simply means being there. A chaplain becomes a connection point from which a journey of building trust and building relationship begins.

Excellence – As chaplains, we aim to be excellent in all we say or do. We are committed to ongoing training and maintaining an attitude of excellence.

Relationship– Chaplains are by their very nature relational, so when engaging with people they are sensitive and compassionate. They are motivated by a real and dynamic Christian faith and a relationship with Jesus which is central to all they do.

Confidentiality–Chaplains are a trusted safe port of call with excellent listening skills and who understand the crucial importance of confidentiality within the heightened competitive community of sport.

Humility – Chaplains model integrity with a focus on serving and not seeking kudos for themselves.

The Need for a Chaplain

Pastoral care encompasses a wide variety of issues and offers support at times of personal crisis as well as during everyday life. Problems faced by athletes and staff in a sporting arena are no different to those faced by society as a whole but, there are some features unique to the sporting world, which create an additional need for chaplaincy support:

- The highs and lows and uncertainty of the sporting lifestyle.
- A high number of young people who are forging a career in the spotlight of their own communities, often needing a confidential listening ear.
- Players and staff personal identity can get wrapped up in their club or sport.
- High odds against becoming a successful player can lead to feelings of failure and despair.
- Sport is physically and mentally demanding and potentially dangerous.
- Injured players often require ongoing care to keep mentally fit whilst recovering physically.
- Intense and unique working hours in a performance driven environment.
- The need to incorporate overseas players and their families into local life.
- Preparation for life after playing, “transitioning”.
- Having a trusted confidant to discuss the wider challenges of life with a wider perspective than just sport.

What We Give

We currently have over 70 chaplains (and growing) supporting professional, semi- pro, amateur and all ability sports clubs throughout Northern Ireland. Our chaplains work on a voluntary basis and are dedicating regular time and energy to supporting their clubs sporting and non-sporting staff at the training ground, at the stadium , in the boardroom and also away from the club setting . As a conservative estimate, Sports Chaplaincy UK are helping to resource Irish sport with around £500,000 worth of in-kind support.

With God's guidance our aim is to increase the amount of support to the sporting individuals , clubs and communities in Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland in the season ahead.

Training

Sports Chaplaincy UK has worked to ensure that there is a level of consistency across our chaplaincy. To this end, each chaplain will receive training covering issues ranging from safeguarding to the unique role of being a professional sportsperson. We are working hard to develop sports chaplaincy across Ireland liaising with National Governing Bodies clubs and local Christian churches to find, equip, release and support chaplains across various sports. Chaplains are there to support the whole club and so some clubs have more than one chaplain in post. All our chaplains agree to ongoing continuous professional development to ensure we are as "fit" as possible to deliver. This means undertaking specialised training in things like bereavement, trauma, addictions, family care , stress , mental wellbeing , etc.

HELPING TO DEVELOP THE COMPLETE PERSON

Sports Chaplaincy UK in Ireland 2020

You are valuable, you are important, you matter. From the athlete, to the supporter, and every staff member, volunteer and helper in between – all are important, all are valuable and yes – all matter. The sporting communities in Ireland are amazing places where competitive juices and friendships flourish in the most wonderful settings. They are tough places also where resilience and mental toughness are key to underpin technical, tactical and physical prowess. And the truth is we don't have a sporting life which is separate from a working, family or social life – we just have one life. Sometimes life throws up challenges and difficulties and questions and very often when we least expect them. Sometimes they are not always easy to share or talk about. As a team of volunteer chaplains, we can bring a care and love to everyone at your sports club that does not have to fit a budget or particular outcome. We are instead able to bring pastoral support and spiritual care that cuts across all agendas and is totally confidential and people centred.

This past year we have seen the demand for chaplaincy increase significantly and we have been able to appoint 12 regional chaplains as a consequence of our work with the Irish FA and their Ahead of the Game initiative – “Mental Health Awareness Program” which has broadened our geographical footprint. Mental health is a major topic of concern within every sports club and the recognition that a chaplain has a vital role to play through their presence and availability is evidence of the increasing significance of the chaplain's role. Our chaplains have been required more than ever to help and journey with people through troubled waters, as well as celebrating life with them and bringing fresh perspective. And we have been there to listen and provide practical support and advice to prevent other people's worlds from crashing down round them.

In football we have chaplains at 27 of the 35 clubs in the Northern Ireland Football League. We have seen an increase in the appointment of chaplains in Northern Irish amateur football across a range of leagues and clubs. Across the spectrum of football, we have seen appointments at Larne, Portstewart, Belfast Celtic, Ballymacash Rangers, Annalong Swifts, Dungoyne Boys, Linfield Ladies, Linfield Disability and an IFA “Back in the Game” program based in Ballymena. In Rugby five clubs have appointed chaplains in the last 12 months including Coleraine Rugby Cricket and Hockey Club who have 1100 members. On the topic of cricket, we have been endorsed by the North West Cricket Union and have been delighted to appoint chaplains to four new clubs. And we now have chaplains in gymnasiums and golf clubs and are looking forward to expanding sports chaplaincy in the Republic of Ireland.

If your club or sport does not yet have a chaplain we would love the opportunity to serve you on your journey. For more information , please contact :
